

Wheatland, near Lancaster 26 Sep '49

My dear Sir

Should the day be clear, I shall send for Miss Hobbes, Miss Dow & the Misses Laumans on Saturday morning next, having already received your kind permission. I would send my niece Miss Lane with the carriage; but I fear there might not be room. My driver Mr. John Ford, however, is a careful & respectable man to whom you may safely trust the young ladies. I shall send them back again on whatever day you may appoint; but I trust you will allow them to remain with me at least until Tuesday & as much longer as you think proper.

from your friend
very respectfully
James Buchanan
