

20 July

Dear L.

I wrote you yesterday. All are both well & Will enjoying himself very much. We rowed among the islands at sunset yesterday. To day [sic] we rowed over to the Huddle & got big straw hats & sailed back in time for dinner – for extra-caution being first time I tried the sail. I put Will's life preserver on him – but all went well we had no need of. I trust you are all doing well. I have no card yet but hope to get one this PM by Lily Price. Our mail gets here one day after sent by you at 51 [?]. Telegrams would reach my boat from cold – where Frank writes for Alex sent it to me – Yours, JBH
