My dear Luly,

I wanted to have written you a short letter yesterday, to tell you of our safe arrival & pleasant trip, but I had a bad sick head ache & was therefore obliged to put it off till this morning. I was rather tired out before leaving home, & then the [] has been [] I have not felt my []

Mr. Henry has been so kind & [] to us

may thank him

an opportunity

& he would be glad to introduce her, as it might be of [] to []. []'s Mother went with him to their [] and had a most delightful time. She found Mrs. [Worden] very pleasant indeed. The journey is rather a tedious one, particularly the latter part of it, from Baltimore here the cars are very uncomfortable indeed. but he found a very comfortable house and hope to get along very well. This Hotel is not a very good []

[] has gone in for examination this morning, but it takes much longer than he expected. He will not be through until late tomorrow or perhaps not till Thursday morn. [] you may imagine how anxious he feels – [] to feel a great deal better since he came & for my part, I have not a doubt of his examination. But []
