

Collegiumi Trinitatis Sanctissimae

Hartgordiae

Omnibus has literas perlecturis Salntem in Domino

Sciatis quod Dominum Jaobum Buchanan, praeses consentientibus viris honorandis ac reverendis hujus Collegii Curatoribus, titulo graduque atrium liberalium baccalaurei adornavit et condecoravit et ei fruenda dedit monia jura privilegia dignitates honores et insignia quae hic aut usquam alibi ad cundem gradum evectis concede solent.

Cujus in rei testimonium literis hisce Collegii sigillum et presidis chirographum apponuntur

Datum ex aedibus academicis
augusti annoque

dominnotii MDCCCLIII

Translation:

College of the Most Holy Trinity
Hartford

In the year Lord, all these letters perlecturis salnte

Know ye, that the Lord James Buchanan, the president with the consent of the College of the men who should be honored, and the reverend of this Curatoribus, and to the enjoyment of the title he gave further step towards opening of ceremony at Barnack, the court of the liberal and the rights, privileges, and adorned his bachelor's honors and dignities RAISED grant other insignia which are accustomed to this man, or anywhere else to the second degree.

Which of these letters in the testimony of the College seal and signature of the governor before

Given the University
August 1853

JBFP5_2_2_005_J_Buchanan_diploma

Transcribed by kvb

LancasterHistory

LancasterHistory