Gentlemen - I have prepared a copy

Chaps XIV, XV, XVI, XVII, & XVIII
of my Handbook - neither of much length.
You now have from chap. VII in of preparation being 12 chapters.

I am very uneasy lest you will not get the make up in time
for me.

All the plates ^{of the book} must be made by the 1st of this month, at farthest.

I'd like to know what you are doing. I hear nothing, & set no plates, or proofs.

These other chapters need read.

Dear Sir -
 I noticed yesterday, for first time, that XXXVI has not the proper title. I wrote it on back of the copy covering it, which was not observed, & you gave to the shop. the title of the first all under it.

I dislike to have the change made,
 as noted within. I suppose not much trouble will result - Am sorry for the blunder,
 all around.

Edw. McPherson

I this morning found the proof enclosed.

Will not adv. before Aug. 2, I think.
 But just proof work
 I send index today & Express. & Paper.
 Have put up some -

Edw
