

Dr Cousine

Inclond you have Sales of goods, we have been concerned in to this day; together with your Acc<sup>t</sup> Current the ball due you is Two Hundred & fifty Three pounds 8/3/4, which on examination if you find right I should be glad you would note, and advise me thereof, — The goods you put into my hands of your Adventure wth Doc. Rubin, (transacted through McField) are yet unsold and consequently I cannot furnish you with the sales, and must therefore be left to a future day — On Acc<sup>t</sup> of a prospect of a peace I see no likelihood of laying out any money to advantage at present. You may either order this Money (with a months previous notice) out of my hands, or give me leave to lay it out with my own, if I should take a chance at any thing in this precarious time — I have made enquiry for a girl for Mrs Hubley without success, and should have mentioned it before, only that I had hopes of succeeding —

You have no doubt taken care to pay the Schoolmaster at Lane for my son Charles's Schooling whilst there and any other expence he was at, I shall repay you when we meet.

I wrote my brother Barnum to go to York to settle his Land purchase, if he should want Money for that purpose, advance it to him on my Acc<sup>t</sup>.

We are all well. I wish you the late in the season, many happy Returns of New Years —

Yr Affec<sup>t</sup> Cousine
